NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS FOR GETTING ORGANIZED CAN BE MET WITH SIMPLE SOLUTIONS

10-Point Driving Survival Kit Checklist and Pre-Booking Services from Shade Tree Garage Takes the Stress Out of Automotive Maintenance Issues

Morristown, New Jersey, January 7, 2010 Many people set goals with each New Year. One of the more popular is the resolution to get more organized. Often times these resolutions are left by the wayside within weeks making them. To help people achieve success in this area, Shade Tree Garage, in Morristown, offers some tips for getting your vehicle organized for winter driving emergencies. They also provide a pre-booking service to save customers time, money, and the headache of having to remember when their car is due for service.

“Most people don’t think about organizing and preparing their vehicle for bad weather driving,” states Dan O’Connor, Service Advisor at Shade Tree Garage. “This is especially important in the winter, when weather conditions can make driving more difficult. That’s why we recommend everyone have a 10-Point Driving Survival Kit in their vehicle.” This simple organizational tip can be the difference that helps you get through an emergency situation. According to O’Connor, the 10-Point Driving Survival Kit should include the following:

- Flashlight with batteries
- Blankets
- Booster cables
- Ice Scraper
- Small bag of abrasive material, like sand or cat litter
- Cloth or roll of paper towels
- Small shovel
- Cell phone
- Can of de-icer
- Warning device, like flares or a reflective triangle

The trusted experts at Shade Tree Garage also recommend everyone to have their vehicle checked to make sure it’s in good running order. At a minimum, O’Connor recommends a check of the ignition, brakes, wiring, hoses, fan belts, battery, tires and antifreeze levels.

With everyone’s busy schedules, it becomes easy to neglect routine maintenance services. With this in mind, Shade Tree Garage provides a pre-booking service for oil changes. This service is provided so customers don’t have to worry about scheduling maintenance. They even text or call their customers the day before to confirm their appointment. Plus, for the clients who pre-book, every fourth oil change is free. Preventive maintenance is always the key to maintaining a safe and reliable vehicle.
